GLEAM

Donna Boyce

The Gleam records golden moments of Chrisman life during 1958-59.

The Gleam

"Not of the sunlight,
Not of the moonlight,
Not of the starlight,
O, young mariner,
Down to the haven,
Call your companions,
Launch your vessel
And crowd your canvas,
And, ere it vanishes
O'er the margin,
'After it, Follow it,
Follow the Gleam.' "

Tennyson

Foreword

William Chrisman stands silhouetted against a horizon of golden moments long to be remembered in the hearts of every student. The expanding campus and facilities and ever increasing student body have all contributed to the growing intellectual maturity of the graduating class. This wisdom and enthusiasm will give them courage to meet the challenge of the future.

It is the endeavor the 1959 Glean to record the treasured moments of Chrisman life during the year. The assemblies, mixers, pep rallies, games, plays, club activities and classroom associations are all an important part of student life. Each occupies a very special place in the happy memories of the student that time can never erase.

It has been just getting to know you this better, I would have liked to have given to know you even better yet. Best of luck to one, who, I think, will go far in whatever you undertake to do.
This year has been a pleasure. Sincerely,
Margaret Harris

Students explore many new horizons

American history classes paid a visit to the Truman library to see historical documents.

Some of the history students examined various nations' flags at the library.

Viewing the first United Nations' table from Los Angeles are these seven history students.

in their classrooms and class projects

Senior members of the paper staff work industriously to publish the next edition of the "Envoy."

These Division II biology students are examining one of the insect collections that is made and studied during the year.

In addition to their regular English, these Division II students help with the work of the publications department.

Class

Learning to bisect lines is fun.

Biology students examine plant closely.

Cello players enjoy practicing.

These two boys show no qualms.

Girls prepare to be good office workers.

scenes

In this age of rockets and outer-space, the classrooms seem to be a proving ground of what will be accomplished in the future. Many experiences long to be remembered were gained working side by side with teachers and classmates.

Students enjoy many varied activities

Some students are always anxious to leave the parking lot after a busy day at school Girls in a home economics class are learning the fundamentals and skills of cooking through the process of making bread.

Students encounter varied experiences

At Cox-Davis, 11th graders receive a variety of experiences in their civics class with the support of a wastebasket.

Congratulating vice-president-elect Tom Haas is Jeff Arnold. Bob DeTray and Carol Sue Nelson are interested onlookers.

Parliamentarian candidates at Division II were Marnita managers were Lynn Ballew and Marge Bullamore.

EDDIE MITCHELL

Mike Soper, newly elected president for Division II, shakes hands with Eddie Mitchell as Eddie's manager Sue Brown watches.

In the race for treasurer were Janice Gillespie and the winner Sherri Allen. Campaign managers, Deanna Donelson and Carolyn Caskey, lent a helping hand.

Campaigning for the office of secretary were Sherry Mesle and defeated candidate, Gail Elliot. The onlooking managers are Judy Maddy and Cam Austin.

Student council members work endless hours compiling names, addresses and phone numbers for the Bear Facts book

A football game wouldn't be complete without the enthusiasm contributed by the band

Publications I students work industriously on learning yearbook production and editing a school paper

Moments of enjoyment pass quickly

Division I chemistry teacher, Miss Witt-har confers with parents at the PTA back-to-school night

Many parents took the seats their teenagers occupy during the day as Miss Waitman, Division I teacher, explains the fundamentals of solid geometry

Miss Myers, shorthand instructor, shows some of the parents how to place their dictation notes for typing

Girls in Division I gym class enjoy a pleasant change playing softball.

The outdoors is scene of many pursuits

Division I boys' gym class scrimmage in touch football during the hour

All seven of the cheerleaders find time to practice together after school

Cheerleaders direct football spectators in an enthusiastic yell

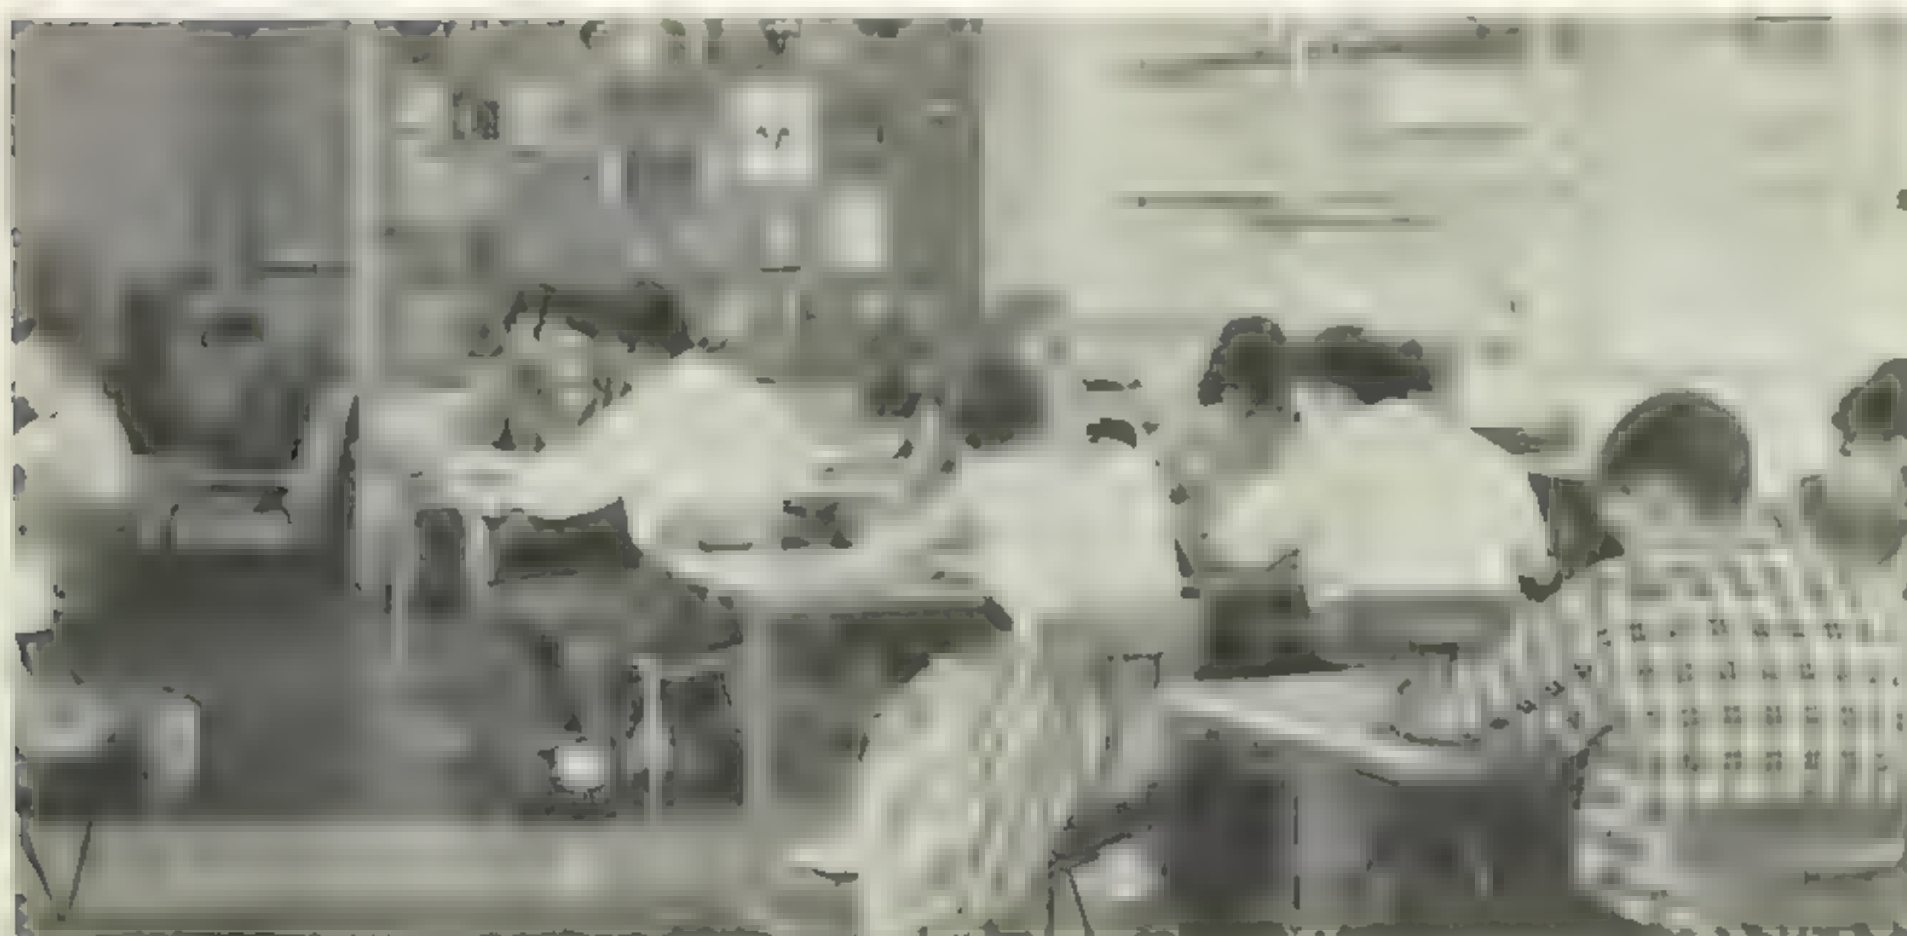

The a cappella choir and orchestra rehearsed many long hours to present their show, "Christmas Capers," March 20 and 21, at Division I

Memories fill these rooms

Students enjoy the new facilities in the library at Division I

Administrative personnel helps students gain the necessary knowledge that they will need in future years. Their understanding and friendship give them a feeling of security. Faculty guidance in aiding students to choose their profession or vocation will always be valued. The administration has helped in the building of strong characters and in the development of leadership

EMORY C. PARKS
Principal
Division II

Mr. Brown and Mr. Parks are kept busy during the summer planning appropriate schedules for the students at Division II. This program includes pupil counseling, faculty assignment and supervision and continuous evaluation of their progress. Preparing boys and girls to meet the challenge of each succeeding period in their lives requires a great deal of planning and action.

The routine tasks of record keeping, building maintenance, public relations and extra-class activities should serve to increase the effectiveness of the classroom activities. They are always on the job trying to serve as the situation requires.

Forming the policies, rules, and regulations of Division I are Mr. Benson and Mr. Lefever. Each year they send a report concerning the new teachers and the classes they teach to the State Department of Education.

Mr. Lefever is in charge of the attendance and issues bus passes to students according to the bus schedules of that year. He also checks credits for graduation.

Both Mr. Benson and Mr. Lefever study the curriculum requirements specified by the State Department of Education. They coordinate these requirements with students' needs to provide a well rounded program of studies. They feel their time is well spent when the graduating class leaves to make its place in the community

Dr. Plucker and Dr. Carter are active in the civic activities of the community and are responsible for the general public relations program of the school. They approve for adoption all textbooks and instructional material for the program at William Chrisman.

Dr. Plucker and Dr. Carter are confronted with housing problems for the ever-increasing school population. Studying blue prints and architectural drawings keep them busy in the planning and supervising of new buildings, additions to buildings now in use and improvements to the older buildings.

Students at Chrisman have been interested in the many improvements made at Division II. Underclassmen are eagerly anticipating the completion of the auditorium at Division I.

Each year a permanent record for each student is kept. They shall assign all instructional and non-instructional personnel. The superintendent of schools shall serve as the executive officer of the Board of Education, and shall be charged with the responsibility of implementing the policies of the board. Their responsibilities are continuous during the entire year.

Each student of the 1959 school year at William Chrisman High School has contributed to the memories that will be long cherished by each of them in the years to come. The classes, achievements and activities of all are a part of the pages of this yearbook. All have gained knowledge that will serve them later. All have added to the many wonderful experiences that made the year a happy and successful one.

Classes

Serving as senior class president was Dennis Branstiter. During his freshman and sophomore years Dennis was active in football and basketball. Attending Rolla School of Mines for at least five years, majoring in electrical engineering, is the aim of Dennis.

This year Ronnie Cotter was elected vice-president of the senior class. Ronnie has played football and basketball and

Distinguished as the largest participated in track, and lettered in all three. He was also a member of C club. To graduate from college, majoring in what he likes best, is Ronnie's ambition.

Secretary of the senior class was Elizabeth Schultz. She has been active, participating in band, student council, Art club and National Art Honor society. She served as parliamentarian-chaplain of the Shakespearean Literary society, vice-president of M club, treasurer of the National Honor society and she was elected to go on the sophomore Pilgrimage. Elizabeth was chosen for the D.A.R. Good Citizenship award.

She plans to attend Earlham College in Richmond, Indiana, to study to become a high school science teacher.

Judy Oberhelman was elected treasurer of the senior class. Judy has been active in the following activities: National Art Honor society, Art club, cheerleader, Junior Red Cross, Shakespearean Literary society, secretary of sophomore class, a cappella, Future Teachers and Spanish club. This year Judy was elected Homecoming Queen by the football boys. To attend Kansas State College, majoring in education or home economics, is Judy's ambition.

A thorough knowledge of the United States Constitution is attained by Miss Kennedy's fourth hour American history class through intensive study.

Patricia Hunter, Larry Starr, Judy Reynolds and Sandra Tivnor, students in Miss Riller's fourth hour English III class study Whittier's poem, "Snowbound." Literary appreciation is an important phase of junior English.

English is a must for every junior student. Miss Beecher, one of the French teachers, is discussing with her fifth hour class one of the many grammar rules studied by English III students.

Chrisman has profited by talents

Admiring one of the many dolls found in the Spanish room are Maryn Cuskey and Kathy Hagen. Some of these dolls have come from Spain, Argentina, and Switzerland and many other countries.

While R. Whitehead, J. Haldeman, D. Bell, L. G. Hays, and J. Carter study artwork, D. Lind, J. Pinner, and R. Blair work on their sketches. In Art I the students have an opportunity to express some of their latent talents in the form of artwork.

Qualities have been instilled

Senior: Sidney Moore

Apologies are in order to Sidney Moore for not including his picture in the Senior Class Section. Sidney very definitely belongs there as he is one of the top students of the senior class. He spent the first part of the school year in Switzerland participating in a piano contest.

The various departments trained students in the cultural and practical skills needed for happy and effectual living. Many hours of work and pleasure contributed to the knowledge gained which enabled them to earn recognition in and to contribute to society in the years ahead. Working together in performing assigned tasks and cooperating with everyone in a democratic manner advanced the students' future development.

Departments

Some of the fondest memories of high school are the friendships made by sharing experiences in the classroom, at the games and just general good conversation.

These students enjoyed chatting with each other before school and between classes. These visits gave them opportunity to exchange ideas.

Friendships formed in the halls

Fifth hour citizenship class taught by Mrs. Leuter study social government. Alva Bowen and Nancy Smith locate points of interest for Karen Davis.

Different types of architecture are studied by Sue Park, Pat Motzell, Ronnie Miller, Linda Willard and David Russell students in Mrs. Gougar's sixth hour citizenship class.

Solving formulas is one important phase in the study of algebra. Joe Darling and Lorraine Clements in fifth hour Algebra I are learning this phase by heart. Mr. Hedges, substitute, was teacher at that time.

Determining their voice range by making a tape recording of poems are Bill Mundav, Marshall Lewis, Mary Ruddy and Pat Robinson.

enhanced good will among classmates

Scientific experiments prove interesting to many students in today's world. Pat May, Pam Hyde and Rachel Mullins demonstrate the firing order of a four cylinder internal combustion engine in Mr. Shafer's fifth hour general science class.

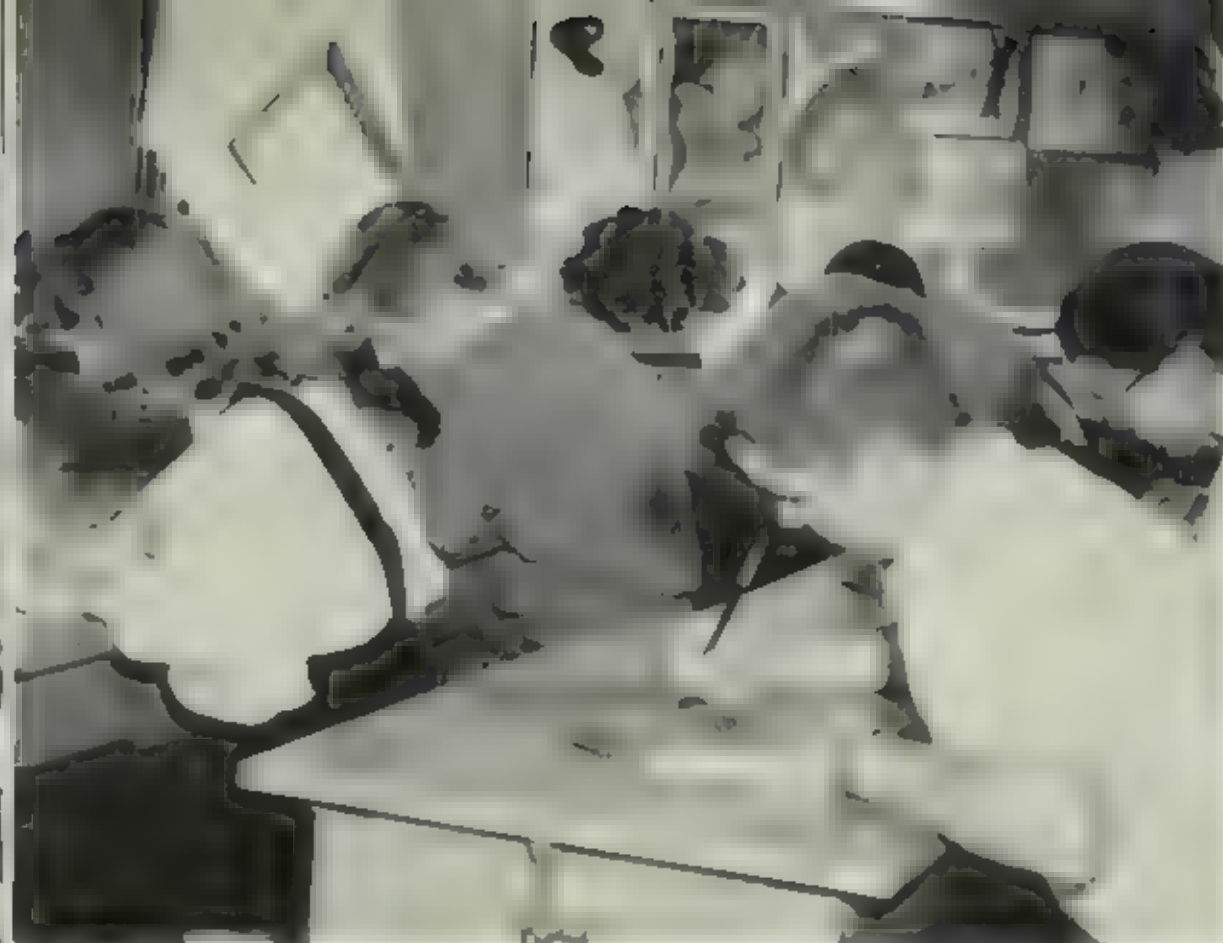

Explaining an assignment and points of interest on a Soviet trip to Stan Jones and Alexis Petrov in sixth hour class is Mr. Boyd, Spanish teacher at Division II.

Seeing songs in Spanish is an entertaining way of using the language. Enjoying this method of studying Spanish are David Steel, Nancy Rogers, Mr. Boyd and Lucy Hensworth as Joanne Tuxley plays the accompaniment.

Art courses offer many students the opportunity to put into practice their creative ability.

Sharing experiences in the classroom

These students are concentrating the revolution in our world and the sun and snowing to the earth each on its axis — using the different seasons of the year. They are Gray Dwyer, Joe Barry, Craig Lacey, Black and Deanne Wiegman, members of Mr. Ray's fifth hour social class.

Deerling is a visual and a learning grammar as demonstrated by Tommy Kasper, Marie McConch, Dale Dwyer and Vera Ames in Miss Mathershead's fourth hour English I class.

Spanish students study the culture of their Latin American neighbors as well as points of interest. Diana Masie, Gay Brown and Diane Black locate Nicaragua on a map and use it as a student project for extra credit.

Further study is now in Latin America by John K. Lee who visits the cities of Spanish-speaking countries in Mexico, Mexico to Louis R. Lee.

A Cappella choir and ensemble groups

Band gives wind players the opportunity to play music together and march in formation at football games. The annual band show is a highlight of the year. Besides playing for civic functions, the band plays at one out-of-town college football game. Activities are supplemented by a pep band.

The main activity of the orchestra is the spring concert it presents with the a cappella choir. While composed of only string instruments in class, the orchestra is joined by wind instruments at extra rehearsals to make the complete orchestra.

A cappella is a selected group of students who wish to sing together. The choir sings at churches and other civic affairs in the city.

General music develops an understanding of music to further appreciation. Girls' choir is a performing group. Mixed chorus teaches students how to sing and gives a broad coverage of vocal music.

Comprising the Division II music department is the freshman and sophomore bands and orchestra directed by Donald Welborn. Three vocal groups, two girls' glee clubs and a girls' choir are under the direction of Mrs. Anna Marie Conway. These groups participate in school and community programs.

develops patriotism and honor

Military training in high schools was provided for by the enactment of the National Defense Act of 1916, as amended in 1920. The ROTC unit at William Chrisman high school was established in 1935 principally through the efforts of the Tiley J. Ford Post of the American Legion.

The objectives of this course are:

- To inculcate habits of orderliness and precision, to instill discipline and thereby respect for constituted authority, to develop patriotism, and to encourage a high sense of personal honor and deportment
- To give the student (cadet) elementary military training which will be of benefit to him and of value to the nation if and when he becomes a member of the Armed Forces
- To develop an appreciation of the Army in its role of national defense and to fully inform all students (cadets) of the opportunities for service therein

The complete course of instruction comprises three years, with a required minimum of 96 hours of instruction each year. It will be completed during the last three academic years of high school.

Hygiene and First Aid, Light Infantry Weapons, Marksmanship, Map Reading, Compass, Aerial Photography and Military Organization are but a few of the subjects taught in ROTC.

The purpose of high school ROTC is not to produce Reserve Officers. This mission is assigned to college ROTC units.

Captain Charles F. West from Spartanburg, South Carolina is the new commanding officer of the ROTC Department. He attended Wofford College in Spartanburg, South Carolina, and graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry. He was also recognized as a distinguished military graduate.

Second semester found a change in the mathematics department. Larry Shoemaker replaced Mr. Strohm. This was Mr. Shoemaker's first teaching experience except for his practice teaching.

Captain West entered the army as a 2nd Lieutenant in December of 1950 at Fort Benning, Georgia. During the Korean conflict he served with the 5th Regimental Combat team, also in Germany with the 9th Infantry division and the 2nd armored division. Captain West is an infantry officer and has graduated from the Associate Armored Officers course at Fort Knox, Kentucky; Associate Infantry Company Officers course and the Infantry Officer Advanced course at Fort Benning, Georgia. He has received numerous awards and decorations.

Born in Cheboygan, Michigan, he completed his first 12 years of education. His first two years of college study was at Graceland College with his baccalaureate degree earned from Warrensburg state college, majoring in physics and minoring in mathematics.

New faculty members — office busy

Helping students with varied problems is just a typical morning's work in the office for Mr. Lefever, vice-principal. The principal's office is a clearing house for the many questions arising among students and teachers concerning their work at Chrisman.

Not they to not seniors — the two boys that is. They are Harold DeFray and Jerry Vachon. Junior DeFray and Ed Lee had the boys in 'Life With Father' the summer play.
 Other cast members were J. D. Wilkinson, Gerth Resch, Jackie Hagens, Sally Jo Ireland, Janet Vachon, Sue Childers, George Hickerson, Linda Wills, Allan Guy, Jerry shown in the classroom of Mr. Freytag.

 The students who are interested for this purpose are Melvin Karaman, the top of the class.

Harold Whithead, Optimist program executive chairman, presents certificates to Elizabeth S. Benson and George Taylor, thus recognizing them as students consistently good in morals, academics, athletics and citizenship. Mr. Benson, introduced Elizabeth and George to the club. They were chosen by the Christmas spirit box to represent the school in the Optimists Youth Association competition.

Honors won in citizenship, art, music

The twenty-second annual National Art Honor society induction was held in the Little Theatre, May 9, 1952, at 8:00 p.m. Members and prospective members must show ten pieces of art in an exhibit, which is a required part of the program. Award winners are chosen after judges have chosen the best from the showing.

Members of Newspaper I class, Mike Bailey, Fran Mann and Jerry Slayton, are helping prepare the index for the 1959 yearbook. These juniors gain experience in producing a yearbook as well as the school paper

De Wayne McGowan and Carolyn Gentry decorated the drum for the Band Show with Christmas symbols. Members of the Art club helped with the decorations for the Band Show

Janet Patton, Joe Darling, Carolyn Gentry, Betty Fulton and Irene Decker are putting last minute touches on scenery to be used in the Band Show. This annual music presentation was held January 2, 1959, in the William Chrisman Division I gymnasium

Carefully tending the plants in the biology room are John Maloney and Ray Clark. The biology room proves to be a most interesting spot all during the year as the various plant and animal projects are developed. Mice, rats and snakes are prevalent as specimens in the animal kingdom. House plants provide lessons as well as specimens for study. Vegetables and grain seeds are sown and the plant growth is studied.

Practical training, fun, study

Mr. Burlingame, mathematics teacher at Division I may know all the answers in solving geometry problems, but he wasn't so adept at fitting together the geometric figures in a puzzle that a student brought him to solve. These third hour students lend moral support to his efforts. Occasionally, there was a bit of heckling too.

Study is an important phase of the educational process. Quiet, pleasant surroundings provide the proper setting for reflection and organization of material read. Mr. Summa, third hour study hall in room 116 gives the students an hour for study.

Multiplying algebraic terms in one of Mrs. Hooks' classes. Billy Adams, David Martin and Donna Rytter increase their mathematical ability.

develop sound responsible citizens

The library is a storehouse of knowledge for those who seek it. Resource material provides additional information to that in the textbook for all students who will take time for research. District I library is used by these junior to senior students to further their development of varied arts of study.

Riders to the Sea was the play entered in the district play contest at Warrensburg, Saturday, March 22, 1958. It received an Excellent rating which is the highest rating possible. Jeannine Hutchings was named as the best actress of the day for her performance of Maurya.

The setting of the play is an island off the west coast of Ireland. It is a cold, gray morning following a storm and the room is dim and full of shadows. Maurya, an old lady, has lost five sons to the sea along with her husband and father. All she has left are Cathleen and Nora, her two daughters, and Bartley, her youngest son.

“Riders of the Sea” One-act play

Bartley, against his mother's wishes, is about to go to sea while it is still rough. Maurya is certain she has lost him. Her fears are realized when men bring her Bartley's body. He had fallen from a horse into the sea on his way to the boat.

The four principals in the cast were Jeannine Hutchings as Maurya, Janet Vaughan as Nora, Sharon Epperson as Cathleen, and David Green as Bartley. Extras included Bob Williams, Bill Fligg, Donnis Graham, Sue Childers, Pat Timms, Judy Oberhelman and Jackie Huggins. Miss Dorothy Bierbaum directed the play assisted by Janice De Tray.

As Mike Soper was just about to kiss Charlotte Dickinson, Gene Ann Bader, Joan Pyper and Patty Reich rushed in to break it.

Inaugurates many varied activities

The Social Science club of Division II was organized for the purpose of studying and learning more about the countries of the world. They began their year with a trip to Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg. Several of the members took part in a panel discussion about world affairs with the International Relations club there. The club members also took a trip to Park College where they toured the campus.

A visit to the Truman Library proved very enjoyable for the students. During the year the club was host to several guest speakers. Lt. Col. H. P. Rand of the United States Army was the speaker at an assembly which the club sponsored January 20. These and many other projects helped to make this a successful year for the members of the Social Science club.

Gary Horner is pointing out to Claudia Bushey, Eddie Mitchell and Mary Jo Campbell spots in the world that are of utmost importance in international relations. Jeannette Allen is doing her bit by holding the world on the globe.

During the past year the Art club of Division II have had many activities. In December, as a community project, club members made table decoration for the Jackson County Historical Society banquet. The club also went caroling to Rest Haven and the Independence Sanitarium.

A trip to the Nelson Art Gallery was enjoyed by all members. They sponsored a Trans World Rock January 17, in the Division I gymnasium.

Using their talents to beautify Christmas and furthering the knowledge of art is the aim of the club. Anyone with an interest in art is eligible for membership.

Filling Christmas stockings for hospitalized veterans was a service of sharing enjoyed by all students in both divisions. Ronald Johnson, Marilyn Caskey, Donna Graham and Kelly Bassett, Division I students admire some of the stockings that have been filled.

Junior Red Cross has been a national organization for more than forty years. It was organized for the first time at Chrisman in the 1956-1957 school year. Each summer a representative from Division I is sent to a training camp for one week to learn in detail about how the Junior Red Cross operates.

Each homeroom elects a representative to go to the council meetings; he reports the proceedings to his homeroom. However, each member of the student body is a member of Junior Red Cross.

During the school year the members planned a Junior Red Cross assembly, had an enrollment drive and sponsored a dance. For the third year they filled school chests for underprivileged schools overseas. These chests aid the children in learning; as well as giving them knowledge of the American way of life. Money was collected in homerooms to purchase the items for the chests.

Other projects included entering a float in the Halloween parade, working on correspondence albums to send abroad, taking a program to the Veterans hospital and filling Christmas stockings for children.

Service to the school, community, nation and the world is the aim of the Junior Red Cross. Chrisman has prompted this spirit through an energetic program of Junior Red Cross.

During the year the Junior Red Cross purchased shares in the stocks for a foreign exchange student. Next year for the first time a South American exchange student will attend Chrisman.

Chrisman worked with the disaster committee along with other high schools in the area. In December Richard Copaker, head of Junior Red Cross in Kansas City and also the Midwestern area president came to a Chrisman Division II assembly to tell of his experiences with the Junior Red Cross in Europe.

Members of Junior Red Cross made a correspondence album, went on a trip to Richards-Gebauer Air Force Base, had an enrollment drive in March, filled a school chest, entered a Halloween float in the Halloween parade in Independence and filled Christmas stockings for veterans.

Studying the Junior Red Cross Journal for program ideas, Patty Roach, Mary K. Smith, Teddy Holsworth and Kathy Lent acquaint themselves with the good being done all over the world by the many high school groups at work.

Students achieve personal growth

Library club members, B. Fitch, J. Fitch, L. Johnson and S. Erwin review an article in Seventeen

The Library club at Division II under the supervision of Miss Pulliam, librarian, obtains valuable work experience by performing various jobs faithfully and accurately over a long period of time. These students are paid high dividends from the knowledge and understanding of library arrangement and procedure which will be applicable in high school, college and future careers.

The members of the Library club follow a schedule prepared by Miss Pulliam in doing their voluntary work. Pupils work each morning before school, assist for a half hour or longer after school or discharge their tasks during class periods.

The tasks are varied for a member of Library club. Included among the many tasks are checking books in or out, putting cards in returned books, shelving books, mending books, assisting in preparing new books for circulation, typing, decorating bulletin boards and assisting pupils in finding needed material.

Since the library was newly redecorated, the members were engaged in cleaning up after the painters had left.

At the meetings of Library club library procedures, problems and future special work is discussed. Frequently a social period follows the regular meeting. Special social activities this year included a potluck dinner and a Christmas party with an exchange of gifts.

Searching for good reading are Gale Taylor, JoAnn Bissell, Norman Dalton, Donna Lynness and Marilyn Sellers, library assistants. They, in turn, are able to aid their fellow-students in selecting worthwhile books

by working as library assistants

Examining the magazines for supplementary materials in the various courses, the library assistants perform another valuable service. JoAnn Bissell, Gale Taylor, Marilyn Sellers, Norman Dalton and Donna Lynness are enjoying a few leisure moments in the magazine corner Devoting one hour each day to performing many services to students and faculty are the members of the Library club. Assisting the librarian, Mrs. Piper, these students perform such tasks as checking books in and out, shelving the returned books and keeping the shelves and books clean.

The purpose of the Library club is to teach the members how to be library assistants. The members also learn the Dewey Decimal System; therefore they can keep the teachers informed on current affairs. They are acquainted with all the magazines and compile the old ones for reference. However, the most important information learned is how to assist students in finding research material and fiction books they would enjoy

One hundred loyal Pep club members

The officers from Division I. Laura Gilbert, Donna Boyes, Maxine Armstrong, Linda Wills and J. Gilbert contribute their ideas for the homecoming decorations at an officers' meeting.

Giving loyal support and enthusiastic cheers at the various athletic events throughout the year are the 100 members of the Pep club. These girls, freshman through senior years, can be seen in their uniforms of blue and gold decorating the goal posts for football games, making posters for basketball games and promoting school spirit in the halls.

In addition to these activities, the Pep club has a drill team which performs at various games and parades. This year Ed Lee, ROTC Battalion Commander, instructed the girls in their practices before school and at performances.

The candidates for Mr. School Spirit were nominated by these girls for the junior and senior classes to choose by ballot. This is an annual event to give some boy recognition for his work and support in school events.

sponsor many and varied activities

The football homecoming game is always a highlight in the season for the Pep club girls. They are in charge of decorating the float, making the crown for the queen and performing some intricate drills.

This year the Pep club sponsored a community chili dinner before the Chrisman-Van Horn basketball game. The proceeds of this will be used to help send the cheerleaders to the National Cheerleader Clinic this summer. Here they will be taught new cheers, motions and receive advice on getting crowd response.

Working right along side the girls in their activities and meetings are Miss Oneida Beeman and Miss Verda Riller, the club's sponsors. This is Miss Beeman's eighth year in Pep club work and Miss Riller's first.

The tickets committee, Nancy Brown, Pat Hinde, Laura Gilbert, chairman Barbara Youngs and Evelyn Robinson are planning the distribution of tickets for a community chili dinner sponsored by the Pep club.

Aim . . . to discover and to develop

David Seal, Jerry Slayton, Don Reed and David Bland are planning meetings for the rest of the year

The William Chrisman Science club was organized to further interest in the field of science. It is an organization to initiate research for careers and hobbies in science.

The work is by personal desire. As a club, joint activities will be brought about to help stimulate members by opening new fields of interest. Field trips in particular will exploit the above ideas, while regular meetings will provide a transfer of ideas.

Any student who is enrolled in one of the science classes is eligible for membership. Lectures, experiments and field trips are means of keeping up with fast moving developments in science.

The Science club of William Christman II was organized to help students gain a more accurate knowledge of science. It is a proving ground for the discovery and cultivation of skills and talents based on science.

The Science club members are responsible for the operation of the club. During the year they see films, have speakers come to talk to them. As a club they toured the water plant. They discuss topics about firefighting, city's main products and scientific research going on in the city.

The Science club of William Chrisman joins forces in an important educational movement discovery and developing scientific talent in the American youth. The sponsors are Miss Evans, Mr. Ray and Mr. Shafer

Studying bacteria through charts and microscopic slides are Jan McCarty, Carol Tudor, Bill Furney and Jim Richerson

Phases of commercial world emphasized

At an executive committee meeting Marsha Mowder, Mary Adams, C. M. Austin, Catherine Franklin and Margret Harris discuss changing the constitution of the Commercial club.

A green shamrock on a white jacket is the symbol of the Commercial club. Membership is open to anyone enrolled in one of the business courses. The purpose of this club is to acquaint members with various businesses and to prepare them for positions in specialized fields of the business world.

Among the activities included by the members were the annual Christmas party held December 9 at the home of Miss Page, the sponsor, and a tour of a company in Kansas City to become acquainted with various machines used in commercial business.

C. O. E. program trains on the job.

Studying and planning the COE program for the year are officers of the three classes. They are Roger Miles Carol Braton, Pat Howard, Sharon Ferguson, Mr. Smith teacher; Janice Warren and Joe Price

Forty-nine senior students are enrolled in the Co-operative Occupational Education program. This program is to help the students receive the training that is needed for a particular job. These students attend class one-half day studying information about that field. They spend the other half day working. They work an average of 29 hours every week. The class is taught by K. L. Smith

There are many occupations that may be studied in this course but there must be an acceptable local training agency available. For example, there are fields in photography, printing, newspaper work, telephone operations and office work

F. T. A. prepare for educational field

Planning programs for the Future Teachers are Genevieve Love, Julie Schulenberg, Lois McCorkle and Frances Hart

The Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Mrs. Brush, has succeeded in providing stimulating activities for students interested in the educational field

Every year the Future Teachers perform at least one service project for the school. Last spring they planted flowers, this fall they planted bulbs, evergreens and Mimosa trees.

During the meetings which were the second Wednesday of each month, different speakers discussed the advantages and disadvantages of the educational program and the requirements needed for each level of teaching

In April of every year there is an annual visitation day. The students visit classrooms to observe and teach. In addition to this, last fall the members who had study hall spent this time in classes at Ott Elementary School

"M" club develops women athletes

Symbolizing Chrisman's fine women athletes is the "M" club. Athletic ability, sportsmanship and good fellowship is the desire of this club of nineteen girls. The club is small because the academic as well as athletic requirements are difficult.

The second semester officers were president, Gerry Andes; vice-president, Jan Gordon; secretary, Sonya Smith; treasurer, Judy Reiff; reporter, Sharon Downs; social chairman, Joyce Salter. Miss Billy Wilson, girls' gym class instructor, is the sponsor.

Entering the Warrensburg Sports Day was one of the activities of this club. In this contest they won first in volleyball and table tennis, with one second place in the swimming contest.

Shawnee-Mission and the Lee's Summit's sports days were also entered. Plans were made for a social event once a month including a Come-As-You-Are party. The Senior banquet and the May picnic are the annual events. Included in plans is an outing at the Ozarks during the summer, which has become another annual activity.

Officers for the first semester, Janet Vaughan, Maryn Fresonke, Laura Gilbert and Janice DeTray discuss plans for the Christmas party for the underprivileged children

A highlight of the year for the As-You-Like-It Dramatic society came at Christmas-time when the girls gave a party for some underprivileged children. Each girl was responsible for one or two children for whom she brought gifts, cookies, etc. In the spring the girls took the children on a picnic

Other activities of the year included the annual Shan dance, the Dads' banquet, the Mothers' tea, the semi-formal spring dance and the senior banquet.

Shan representatives from As Yous were Sue Childers, Janet Vaughan and Janice DeTray

Nautilus Literary Society

Shown: Diane Back, a new member; the jacket she will wear as a member of the society are Mary Adams, Pamela Whitehead, Gonda O'Dell and Catherine Franklin, senior members.

Distinguished as the oldest society at William Chrisman is the Nautilus Literary society, formed in 1919. Navy blue and white are the club colors, with the white carnation as the club flower.

During this year Nautilus has initiated nine new members. These girls ably took their places in this society by planning a children's Christmas party for some underprivileged children. Each girl was given the name of a child for whom she would play "Santa Claus." This party was held at Donna Coil's home December 20, 1958.

Also on the list of activities were the "Shan Dance" and a spring formal attended by members of the three societies.

Shakespearean Literary Society

From Left to right as Sherril Heaviler takes her oath to join the Shakespearean society. Brenda Burnup administers the oath.

Organized in the school year 1920-21, the Shakespearean Literary society has increased in membership and service rendered. The student body first organized this group of girls.

Miss Gann acted as the teacher-sponsor. Since that time, the organization has been difficult to expand. The club has been used significantly.

Wanted — signatures of schoolmates

Dear Donna,

Well, here it is the end of 13 years of going to school together. It really seems funny that it's all over and we will be graduating. Remember all the crazy things we used to do at Benton and the fights we would get into? Honestly, Donna I have really enjoyed knowing you all these years and I hope that I will see you next year down at Columbia. I'm sure you will enjoy M.V. and I hope I will like Stephen. You are a very sweet and attractive person and I'm sure you will have much happiness in life. Lots of luck always.

Sincerely,
Rose Ann
"8-9"

I've have been an asset to "Willie Chris" with all our parties, but it has really been a pleasure for me to know you. When we first met I

you didn't disappoint me

Classmates, dash off a dispatch

Dear Anna,

2/1/24

I have just received your letter of the 28th and was glad to hear from you. I am well and hope this finds you the same. I have been thinking of you very much lately and wondering how you are getting on. I hope you are happy and content. I have been very busy lately with my studies and work, but I always find time to think of my friends. I hope you are all well and happy. I have been

Friends' autographs needed

Dear Anna — Please always remember that I love you and that you and all my fifth grade girls will "dump the top" on my book. You did a wonderful job on the '59 Steam and have been constant to me. It has been a most pleasant year and you have been a very good friend all three years. My affection and best wishes go with you no longer have to see you and write to me.

Sincerely,
Sarah Ellen Campbell

Write your message on this page

Dear,

3. The many basketball games you attended and waited for me.
4. The birthday party you had ~~me~~ for me.
5. The way you stood by me when I shot off my mouth.
6. The nice way your folks have treated me.
7. The times you traveled all over the state with me.
8. The way you enjoyed talking to my mother and grandmother.

Commencement Night

9. The times you stuck up for me when I was in need of some one.

10. There are many more things I would like to say honey, but the thing that has stuck in my mind most is the love you have always given me and the way you have treated me.

Still was the huge auditorium,
 Silence descended o'er all,
 Waiting the last memoriam
 To fall on them in that hall.
 The seniors looked proud on the platform,
 Their hearts were not turned to the past,
 Their dreams smiled on through the program,
 'Til the "Alma Mater" was played at the last.
 Then were eyes filled with strange tears,
 And a loneliness entered their hearts,
 For the things they had hated, they now held dear,
 And they wished, not yet, to depart.

 McColl (S.C.) Chapter

I'll do my best to give you a happy life and I know we both can live and love together. The rest of our entire lives, there is something I want you to never forget.

I admire you very much for sticking with this far and I hope to make these things up that I have done. I'll be close to writing us together again.

Don't forget I love that I love you with all of my heart.

your future is
